

Our Services

Glued Window Profiles

Glued Elements for Interior Doors

Glued Elements for the Front Door

All our products are made according to the wishes and measurements of our customers.

Who We Are

Jol d.o.o. is a small family company from Slovenia, with a tradition since 1990, and we invite you to discover high-quality glued elements for windows and doors.

Our glued profiles made from spruce wood radiate elegance and durability.

The wood we use for glued elements is obtained from well-managed Slovenian forests

Where nature and innovation unite in strength.

EN

Get in Touch

+386 51 605 402

info@jol.si

www.jol.si

Dear customers, allow us to prove ourselves to you!

We employ 22 employees.

Annually, we process approximately 10,000m³ of spruce logs, of which we supply around 3,500m³ of laminated profiles for the production of building joinery to the market. Our main customers come from the demanding German market.

We build customer trust by providing reliable and high-quality products. Our customers can always rely on us and our services.

We process spruce logs

Passionately we engage in processing spruce logs, which we use to create glued profiles for the manufacture of windows and doors.

Our specialty lies in extracting the maximum value from each piece of wood - we process the remains into top-quality pure spruce pellets with the S4Q certificate and are marked with Quality Class 1.

Why Choose Us

- ✓ Quality:
We strive for exceptional quality in all our products and services. Every our product bears the seal of excellence and a continuous effort to achieve top standards.
- ✓ Sustainability:
We respect the environment and responsibly manage resources. Our business is built on a sustainable approach that supports the long-term well-being of the environment and the community.
- ✓ Innovation:
We follow the latest trends and technologies, constantly seeking innovative solutions. We believe in continuous progress and adapting to changes.
- ✓ Family:
As a family business, we value connection, mutual respect, and a common goal. The family atmosphere is reflected in our relationships with employees, partners, and customers.

