

Tamper Evident Packaging Tape

As more companies embrace e-commerce, they are realizing the necessity to safeguard packages against theft and contamination while in transit.

Designed in North America to withstand the most advanced tampering attempts, our security tapes provide a very cost-effective solution to mitigate the risks of unauthorized access.

Our unique void technology ensures that our security tapes cannot be resealed without leaving a message indicating a package has been tampered with.

Be your customers' hero in this rapidly growing market. Give them the product they need to address consumers' hygiene and safety concerns while protecting their bottom line
