

We Turn Raw Potential into Real Progress

Alcoa launched the aluminum industry with a world-changing discovery. Now, we honor that tradition of innovation by unlocking the value of our people and technology to meet the demands of a lower-carbon future.

Our Vision

Reinvent the aluminum industry for a sustainable future.

Our Sustainability Approach

Sustainability is embedded in our company's strategy. We have three strategic components in our approach:

Our Communities

Maintain our social license to operate by creating sustainable value for our stakeholders and, in particular, our communities;

Our Operations

Improve our profitability by enhancing the value of our products through differentiation; and

Our Products

Reduce risk and future liabilities by minimizing social and environmental impacts.

Our Sustana Products

We're helping our customers lower the carbon footprint in their supply chains through our Sustana™ family of low-carbon products, the most comprehensive in the aluminum industry.

EcoDura

Aluminum with at least 50 percent recycled content, supporting the circular economy

EcoLum

Primary aluminum with a carbon footprint that is three times better than the industry average

EcoSource

Alumina products from a refinery portfolio with average emissions intensity two times better than the industry average

WHAT WE PRODUCE

Bauxite

Alcoa is one of the largest bauxite miners in the world, and we have earned global recognition for our comprehensive approach to responsible mining practices.

Alumina

We operate the world's largest third-party alumina business, with six refineries on three continents.

Aluminum

Alcoa offers a comprehensive portfolio of aluminum products, including value-add castings, innovative patented alloys, and our Sustana™ line of products.

Our Values

Our Alcoa values serve as a source of stability in how we operate across the globe. They're core to who we are, who we've always been, and serve as a reminder for how we work.
