WHO WE ARE

Dagel Mangimi s.r.l. is a fast growing Italian company producing pet food. With a consolidated experience in the food sector, our company aims to use natural products and innovative techniques for the production of pet food, trying to create an original product.

Thanks to the use of cutting-edge machinery, as well as the support of specialists in the field of animal nutrition, Dagel Mangimi s.r.l. is introducing a new range of high quality products to the market.

OUR STORY

Founded in 2004 following the idea of the founder Giacomo D'Agostino, with 30 years of experience in the food sector around the world, decided to return back to his homeland and use the acquired know-how, to develop a production plant of pet food, the first of its kind in Puglia. In a short time, his sons Vincenzo and Giammatteo also decided to join the family business and become part of Dagel as partners.

In a few years, thanks to the tenacity of the founder and the initiative of the new entries, the company began a growth that in a short time has placed the Dagel brand among the most emerging in the Italian pet food market. The latest addition to the Dagel team is the youngest daughter, Francesca, who, graduated in animal nutrition, she has brought valid nutritional knowledge to the base of the new recipes presented.

CERTIFICATIONS

Over the years Dagel Mangime has obtained ISO 9001 quality certification which has allowed it to extend its sale to the foreign market, bringing the Made in Puglia brand to the bowls of cats and dogs internationally.

NEW PLANT

After several years of hard work and sacrifice, in 2020 the company inaugurated a brand new cutting-edge production plant that allows to automate various production processes and bring the quality level of food to standards never before seen.

MISSION

Dagel Mangimi understood the importance that a pet has today in a family unit. Dogs and cats have become like children and grandchildren and therefore their well-being has become a factor of primary importance. The Dagel family is committed to the development of healthy foods, exploiting the benefits of the Mediterranean diet in the diet of pets.

Making dogs and cats live longer and in the best conditions of life is the mission of this family, and the search for ingredients and new processing techniques is the basis of our work.

VISION

You are what you eat and "they" are what you feed them. The responsibility to develop foods with a high biological value and particular nutrients that extend their life is our everyday goal. Today, food can no longer be just good and nutritious.

The level of attention of the new "parents" means that we producers have to study and offer them something more. Dagel aims to develop dry, wet and combined foods that not only bring happiness to those who eat them, but offer a practical solution and at the same time give a healthy benefit. The pet market is growing rapidly and the possibility of bringing "Made in Puglia" to more and more countries fills us with enthusiasm and a desire to improve.

The need to develop new products, use new ingredients and new processing techniques, encouraged Dagel begin to evaluate the development of a new production plant, which uses processing techniques with low energy impact and circular economy (zero waste), implementing innovative products that carry on the company's mission: the health of our little 4-legged friends.

OUR BRANDS

The pet food market is vast (and developed for each type of dog and owner). Unlike us humans, dogs and cats have various breeds that range in size and characteristics, therefore, a single food cannot be suitable for all.

At the same time, the economic availability of those who have to buy varies and therefore it is necessary to offer different solutions for different palates and different purchasing possibilities. For this reason Dagel Mangimi has developed several lines of food and has many new products in the pipeline aimed at improving the health of our little furry friends.
