Introduction.

Secure digital data exchange is essential for optimising business processes and maintaining a competitive advantage. Solutions must not only comply with legal requirements but also be easy to administer and user-friendly. Otherwise, security gaps and financial losses can occur.

This document provides a concise overview of the challenges faced by businesses and public authorities when exchanging sensitive data and demonstrates how the FTAPI platform offers a secure and efficient solution.

FTAPI is the leading platform for secure data exchange, specifically designed to meet the needs of businesses, public authorities, healthcare institutions and the industrial sector.

Discover how FTAPI facilitates secure data exchange while ensuring the highest security standards.

Challenges in data exchange.

Ensuring secure data exchange requires more than just purchasing software. The chosen solution must comply with legal regulations and prioritise ease of use.

COMPLIANCE RISKS

Inadequate protection of sensitive data can lead to violations of regulations such as the GDPR, DORA or NIS-2, resulting in severe fines and potential liability for executives.

SKILLED WORKER SHORTAGE

Many organisations lack qualified IT personnel and expertise in new regulatory requirements. Software should alleviate this burden and provide support.
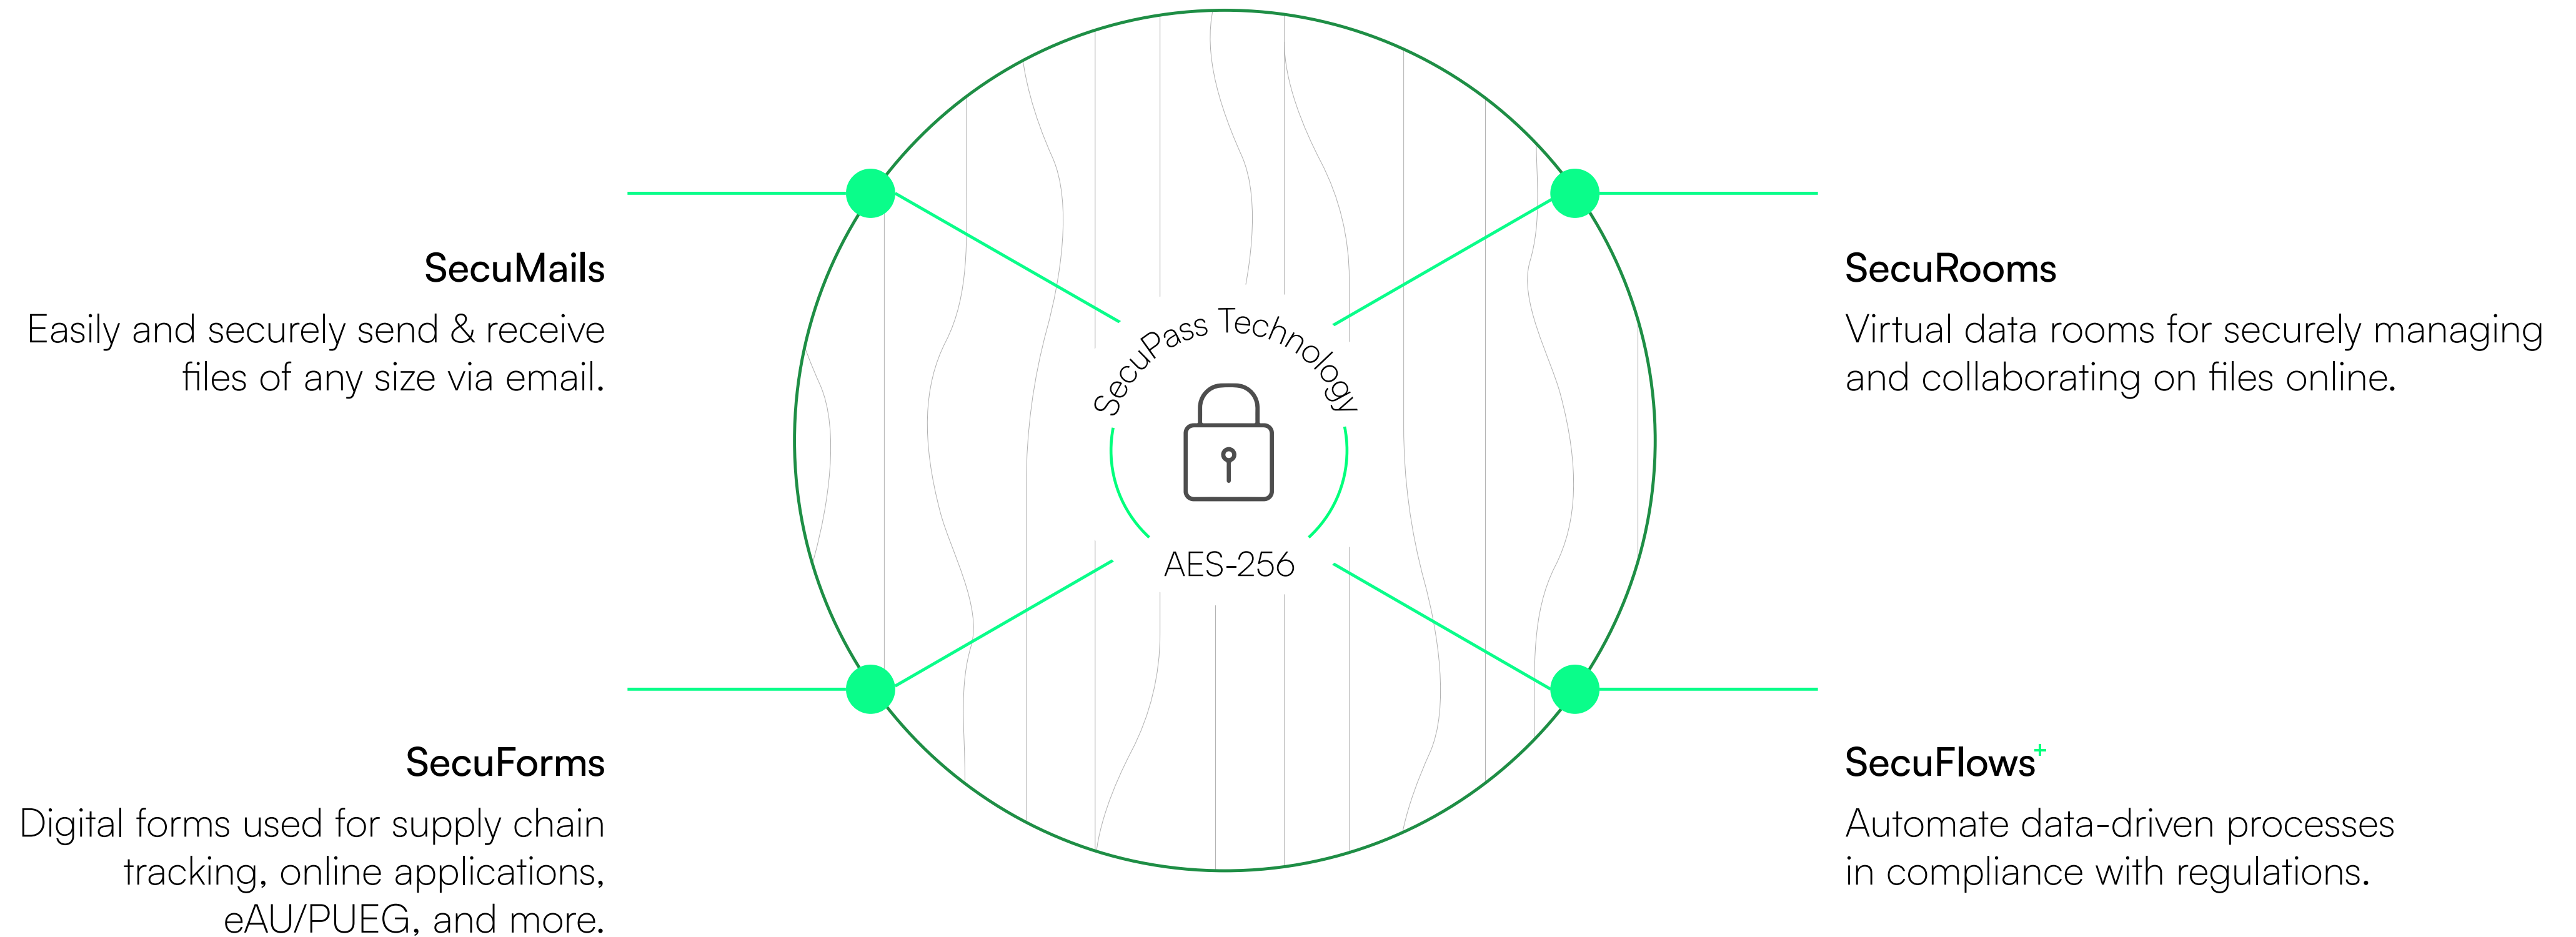

SHADOW IT

If software solutions are not intuitive and easy to use, employees often resort to alternative, unsecured tools, increasing vulnerability to cyber threats.

HIGH ADMINISTRATIVE EFFORT

Using multiple, isolated solutions for data exchange consumes time and IT resources, as each solution requires separate management and maintenance.

The #1 platform for secure data exchange.

Even complex challenges in data exchange can be tackled securely and efficiently with FTAPI's four integrated solutions:
