FURRISH

SHAMPOO

We know and love dogs as much as you do. We know some can be sensitive souls and some like getting messy. And we also know some who don't like bath time!

So, we've developed a complete range of shampoos that you'll both love to use.

Formulated for your particular pooch and designed to be gentle to both skin and hair, our shampoos offer a fresh scented clean.

COAT TYPES EXPLAINED

We have designed our Furrish product range to be suited to most coat types, here we explain the coat types:

● Puppy Coats

When you have a new puppy it is easy to get overwhelmed with the number of products on offer. Keep it simple and remember your puppy's skin is delicate. Using the correct products will cleanse the coat without stripping it of its natural oils. Remember a dog's skin is less acidic than human's so human products are not suitable.

● Sensitive Coats

Some dogs have more sensitive skin than others and this needs particular care. Sensitive skin can be caused by different factors- some breeds genetically have more sensitive skin where others are more sensitive due to environmental factors such as allergies or the weather.

● Long & Straight Coats

Long and luscious locks require a little more TLC when it comes to grooming but with the right products and care you can keep your dog's coat in top condition and cuddle ready.

● Short Hair Coats

Two layers of short hair make this coat type very dense. Short coats are easy to maintain without the problem of matting, however maybe more prone to shedding.

● Curly & Wavy Coats

Daily brushing is required for these coats to avoid any knots and tangles that they are prone to. Detangling tools and extra care are necessary to keep this coat type in top condition.

● Shedding Coats

All dog's shed but regular grooming can help remove the dead hairs before they are shed and help prevent matts in your dog's coat.
