

We are more than a packaging supplier...

DELTA Packaging Services

DELTA Packaging Services is an independent business unit of the DS Smith Group, one of the leading manufacturers of corrugated packaging solutions. DELTA offers packaging services and solutions along the entire supply chain and for all major packaged goods. We operate independently from DS Smith with our own diversified portfolio of suppliers.

DELTA is based in Pulheim, close to Cologne, in the heart of Germany. With more than 20 packaging and supply chain experts and a turnover of 30 million euros, we offer a wide range of services along the entire packaging supply chain of our customers – both in Germany and in Europe.

What makes us special:

Manufacturer- & material-independent partner

We select materials not according to availability, but to technical necessity, ensuring technically optimal, application-specific packaging solutions.

End-to-end packaging services

Comprehensive packaging services covering engineering, procurement, packaging supply, prototyping, and end-to-end supply chain management.

Recognised and certified packaging test centre

BAM-registered test centre for dangerous goods, offering drop, crush and burst strength tests, including testing for large load carriers.

Strong experience in defence and regulated industries

We already supply the defence industry, supported by a proven track record in the automotive sector and transferable expertise across regulated industries.

Extensive international network and flexibility

Backed by a broad European supplier network (140+) and 230 production sites in EMEA, enabling high flexibility as part of a global corporation.
