

Aqualapka Brand

A Few Words About Our Company

It all started with a simple thought – animals deserve the best. This has become the driving force behind us creating the highest quality products to ensure a healthy, long, and happy life for our four-legged friends.

Aqualapka is a story of love, passion, commitment, and constant striving for excellence. It's also the story of a small, family-owned American company that transformed a higher idea into a global brand, a leader in the market for animal water.

We continuously educate pet owners, veterinarians, and professional breeders. We build awareness of the crucial role water plays in the diet of our pets. Our website and social media channels are an open space full of knowledge and inspiration, which we gladly share with others.

Aqualapka's offer is much more than high-quality drinks. It's a synonym for the health and excellent well-being of our pets.

Aqualapka is also a source of joy and closeness. It's the essence that provides energy and positive vibes, felt by both our pets and us as their owners because, after all, we want the best for them.

We are proud that our products have become the number one choice among veterinarians and professional breeders for their highest quality, safety, and effectiveness confirmed by specialized studies and renowned certificates.

YOUR PET'S HEALTH IS OUR TOP PRIORITY – this is our motto and the guiding principle that determines the direction of our brand's development.

Our Mission

Our love for animals has become the foundation of our brand. We aim to improve the health, life, and well-being of pets, setting quality standards in their hydration field. We understand how crucial the well-being of their pets is for owners, and we dedicate ourselves to this purpose with all our hearts. We want every pet guardian to understand the importance of water in their diet. Our mission is to provide the highest quality drinks.
