In Japan, 70%~80% of dogs and cats visiting animal clinics are prescribed medications.

However, dogs and cats have well developed sense of smell and taste, therefore they tend to have difficulty taking medicine. By developing products Vet's Labo supports the health of dogs and cats around the world.

Vet's Labo is supported by veterinarians in pet clinic, and clinical veterinarians are the ones who most understand our concept and feel the need to use it.

✚ What we look for an overseas agency

- ① Must understand the concept and be able to promote marketing similar to Japan.
- ② Must have a relationship with pet clinic.
- ③ Our products are made from human grade ingredients and are premium food. Therefore, our products are not inexpensive.

✚ Vet's Labo policy
