Mewa Textile Service

We offer high-quality workwear, which has been specially designed to suit your individual needs. More than that: Mewa 360° service means you have chosen the most modern and innovative way of procuring industrial textiles as well as benefiting from an increase in cleanliness, efficiency and comfort. Extremely comfortable and invisible in the background, Mewa reliably provides each of your employees with individual workwear – visually flawless, certified hygienic and functionally tested. Only possible in the reusable system.

Mewa Awards

We are a certified 'German Brand of the Century' and even world market leader in the field of reusable textile cleaning cloths. We were awarded first place in the 'Design' category of the German Sustainability Award 2023 and our innovation management has placed us among the top 100 most innovative companies in the German mid-sized sector.

Quality and environmental expertise

Certifications according to DIN EN ISO 9001 and 14001 are evidence of our top quality and environmental responsibility. These certifications guarantee excellent service and appropriate care in accordance with applicable safety and environmental protection requirements.

Embroidery and emblem service

A uniform appearance of your employees ensures trust on the part of the customer and promotes identification with the company. We can therefore also equip your workwear with customised lettering or labels.

Professional clothing: a 360° service

Our mission

Every collaboration starts with customised advice. This includes size determination for each employee and precise identification of needs. Thanks to barcode labelling, all employees are always returned their own clothing.

Inspection and repair service

Quality demands consistent implementation. After every washing and drying cycle, our employees check your work clothing for damage. When necessary, we replace fasteners and mend holes and areas that show heavy wear and tear.

Mewa product diversity from a single source

- › Reusable textile industrial cloths
- › Professional and protective clothing
- › Business clothing
- › Oil absorption mats and doormats
- › Car seat covers
- › Washroom hygiene

Mewa locker service

The Mewa locker system is our solution for storing your clean workwear and for collecting soiled laundry.

Ergonomic Climate-regulating Sustainable Peak

Are you ready for the next level of professional workwear?

The Mewa Peak collection is one thing above all: uncompromising. Uncompromising in design, uncompromising in function and wearing comfort and and uncompromising in terms of sustainability.

The work jacket and work trousers impress with their modern look in three different colours, featuring the best qualities of workwear, outdoor clothing and sportswear. No matter whether for employees in trade or industry, technicians, mechanics or design engineers, in facility management or logistics – every wearer will be thrilled.

Peak Highlights

Work trousers

18 PET bottles go into producing one pair of size 50 work trousers.

Work jackets

There are a total of 23 PET bottles in a size 50 work jacket.

Peak combines innovation with sustainability

Mewa's Peak workwear has thermo-regulating technology. Peak combines a technology seen in the sports sector with the recycling of PET bottles. The innovative fabric is elastic, extremely breathable and thermoregulating and retains these properties even after multiple wash cycles.

The Peak collection developed by Mewa gets its special functionality from a system that uses a variety of different materials. As hybrid products, the workwear has warming and cooling zones as well as elastic or protective areas. The polyester fibres are made from recycled PET bottles. In total, the proportion of resource-saving, sustainable materials used in the Mewa Peak range is around 75 %.

Cool style,
implemented sustainably

Workwear meets responsibility

Temperature-regulating

37.5 is a temperature regulating technology that interacts with the body and removes moisture. It is driven by naturally occurring, active particles (from volcanic sand).

Ergonomic fit

Only what fits well is worn with pleasure. The Peak collection is ergonomic workwear that flexibly adapts to any figure. Elastic inserts ensure the best possible freedom of movement – in every direction.

Sustainable

The polyester fibres used in Mewa Peak are made of recycled PET bottles. The percentage of resource-saving, sustainable materials is about 75 %!

Stylish

Cool cut, cool design, cool style – and that paired with the best functionalities and a wonderfully pleasant wearing comfort. The design and the cut are developed in such a way that we say: Mewa Peak makes people.

Carefully thought out from waist to collar

Jacket

Unicoloured: night black

Peak Jacket

This is more than just a work jacket. It has been carefully thought through down to the smallest of details and is impressive in all respects. From comfort and functionality to a sporty, casual look in a variety of different cool colours – the Mewa Peak work jacket takes its wearers to a new level of work.

The jacket's cut is close to the body, but this does not affect freedom of movement in any way because the materials are extremely elastic and ergonomically designed. Do you work outdoors in cold and very warm temperatures? This jacket features temperature-regulating zones, making it suitable for all weathers and ensuring that your body temperature is regulated perfectly. The numerous pockets are more than practical so that you can always have your tools at hand at all times.

The future of work trousers

Trousers

Unicoloured: marine

Peak Trousers

The Mewa Peak work trousers do so much more than just look great. The fact that they look sporty, sit absolutely comfortably and fit every figure type is one aspect. However, it is the inner values that make these trousers something special and unique.

Especially if you move a lot, you can enjoy the elastic materials and the thermoregulating properties. Do you often have to bend your knees when working? The newly developed shaping of the knee ensures that the trousers fit correctly after standing up. The shape of the knee pocket noticeably increases comfort during movement.

The pre-padded knee pocket is a significant benefit and a unique selling point. Do you need lots of pockets? With pleasure. The knee pocket is reinforced with Cordura, just like the hem. Additional details include the practical, concealed zip, tab on flap(s) and partially inserted reflective piping as a decorative design element.
