At Unimon, educating about correctly-fit muzzles is something we are passionate about! Muzzles are often crucial for keeping dogs safe—which makes it all the more important that their muzzle fits correctly. A properly fitting muzzle shouldn't prevent dogs from fully panting, yawning, drinking or barking. Did you know that dogs regulate their body temperature almost exclusively by panting? Therefore, it's crucial that a muzzle provides enough space for the dog to fully open its mouth to pant, while still remaining securely on their face.

Muzzles aren't only used to prevent dogs from biting. They can also be a helpful tool in many everyday situations, such as vet visits, hiking, and in many training situations. Using a muzzle is also a great way to reliably prevent dogs from picking up inedible objects from the ground, especially since dogs tend to eat everything they can get their paws on! Furthermore, in many countries, it's mandatory for dogs in certain situations, or of certain breeds, to wear a muzzle.

Our team at Unimon is dedicated to designing perfectly-fit muzzles in various sizes, to fit a wide range of dogs. Our muzzles are meticulously planned and calculated, to ensure the correct ratio of nose length to pant space, so that the necessary pant space is provided in every basket. The straps are also adjustable to fit to the dog, for a perfect fit in just a few simple steps.
