

Press Release

Product Innovation GaLaBau 2026 – Modul5 MaxiLine

Cologne/Nuremberg, September 2026 – At GaLaBau 2026, the leading international trade fair for urban green spaces and open-space design, Bambusbasis will present its latest developments in modular bamboo privacy screen systems. The highlight of this year's exhibition is the premiere of the new Modul5 MaxiLine – a product range featuring particularly thick bamboo poles for a striking, high-end appearance in outdoor environments. GaLaBau takes place from 15–18 September 2026 in Nuremberg.

Natural Material Meets Modern System Design

Since 2008, Bambusbasis has been developing and manufacturing made-to-measure bamboo privacy screen systems for professional landscaping and fence construction. Premium natural bamboo from Indonesia is combined with durable structures made from stainless steel, Corten steel and powder-coated steel. The result is a range of aesthetically pleasing, long-lasting and flexible privacy solutions for residential and commercial outdoor spaces.

New at the Exhibition: Modul5 MaxiLine

With the introduction of Modul5 MaxiLine, Bambusbasis expands its proven product portfolio with a new version featuring exceptionally thick bamboo poles. The result is a bold, natural appearance that offers landscape architects, designers and contractors even greater creative freedom. The range is complemented by the established Modul5 system and the elegant Modul5 Slimline, both of which will also be showcased at the exhibition.

Tailor-Made Solutions for Professional Projects

Every system is manufactured to measure and can be adapted to individual project requirements. Whether for private gardens, commercial developments or public outdoor spaces, the modular systems combine natural aesthetics with premium quality and straightforward installation.

Visit Bambusbasis at GaLaBau 2026

Experience the new Modul5 MaxiLine together with our complete range of innovative bamboo privacy screen systems at our exhibition stand. Our team will be pleased to advise you on bespoke project solutions, materials and application possibilities.

About Bambusbasis GmbH

Since 2008, Bambusbasis has specialised in the development and manufacture of modular bamboo privacy screen systems for professional landscaping and fence construction. By combining premium natural bamboo from Indonesia with precision-engineered metal structures manufactured together with regional partners in Germany, the company creates durable, made-to-measure solutions for premium outdoor spaces.