Who are we?

EKSPOL is a manufacturer and international distributor of natural animal feed additives. PRESTIVET is our brand with specialized products for, among others, dogs, cats and horses.

What do we do?

We produce the highest quality natural supplements for animals for pro-health and pro-ecology purposes which allow utilizing natural resources. They prevent, support and treat many diseases and ailments directly in animals and - indirectly - in humans.

Our products..

Our products are based on natural plants oils and extracts. They are created in cooperation with the best veterinary doctors, on the basis of the scientific literature and researches. We use synergy present in natural ingredients to obtain proecological products of the highest quality and efficiency.

Our offer...

Wide range of products lets us, together with our customers, create very effective and safe prophylaxis, supporting the natural defense forces of animal organisms. PRESTIVET preparations are perfectly matched to specific animals and their specific pro-health needs.

Our service..

Our offer already includes quite a lot of products, but we are also ready to create new ones. Our experience allows us to quickly, naturally and successfully solve even the most difficult problems that arise in animal husbandry and nutrition.
