B14 SIERRA STAINLESS

The new standard in performance for any condition.

The new B14 Sierra Stainless is a rifle engineered to challenge the current market benchmark for lightness and all-weather performance. Based on the trusted B14 platform, it delivers an uncompromising rifle for the serious hunter who demands absolute reliability. This rifle focuses on the essentials: unwavering accuracy, extreme durability, and a level of quality that sets a new standard in its class.

Built for those who hunt in the most demanding conditions, the Sierra Stainless offers the Bergara experience with sub-MOA precision in a robust, fully equipped package. It's the ideal companion for anyone who needs a rifle that performs reliably in any situation and environment.

A DESIGN READY FOR ANY TERRAIN

Designed for the practical hunter, the B14 Sierra Stainless is a comfortable and extremely durable companion. Its streamlined design and slim barrel profile make it easy to carry over long distances, reducing fatigue and enhancing maneuverability. This rifle is built to work hard—a perfect fusion of functional design and proven performance.

VERSATILITY AND FIT UNMATCHED

A key feature that sets this rifle apart is its adjustable cheekpiece and adjustable length of pull (LOP), allowing the hunter to customize it for a perfect fit. Additionally, the threaded barrel opens up a world of possibilities for adding accessories such as suppressors or muzzle brakes, providing functional versatility that goes beyond the rifle's intrinsic performance.

PERFORMANCE AS ESSENCE

At the heart of the B14 Sierra Stainless lies the level of performance that defines the Bergara brand. The ultra-smooth B14 action combines with a precision stainless-steel barrel, and together they ensure consistent sub-MOA accuracy. Every element is engineered to deliver precise, repeatable shots, time after time.

READY FOR THE ELEMENTS

The barrel and action are not only made of stainless steel but also treated with a Cerakote finish, providing superior protection against the elements while maintaining the natural, clean look of stainless steel. The fluted bolt, made of carbon steel, is also coated with Cerakote, adding a protective layer that keeps the action silky smooth—a hallmark feature of the B14 line.
