natural value

Freeze-dry technology

We spent a long time looking for a way to preserve the most important things in our product: nutritional value, natural taste, and trust. And we found it in the technology of sublimation drying, or freeze-dry. First, each piece is deep-frozen, and then, in a vacuum, moisture is slowly removed from it. Thanks to this, we avoid high temperatures, which usually destroy beneficial nutrients and alter the taste.

The result is a lightweight product that retains up to 100% of its natural value, has a neutral, barely perceptible meat aroma, and the genuine simplicity of a single ingredient. What's more, it leaves almost no residue on your hands. No preservatives. No artificial flavors. Nothing extra — just a pure, natural product. Freeze-dry technology has long been used in areas where it is critical to preserve natural composition and safety: in medicine, pharmaceuticals, baby food, and military and space rations.

We have introduced it into pet food — because we believe that those who are always by our side deserve the same level of care. To food made with respect — for their health, their habits, and their very nature. Freeze-dry is a slow and complex process. But it is precisely what allows us to be honest about the most important things: the composition, the quality, and the result. Because a treatment worthy of a crown begins with attention to detail.

About Us

cosset
a story of respect that begins with love

This journey began not from calculations, but from a love story between a Ukrainian woman and an Italian man, united not only by a passion for life but also by a deep respect for animals. Together, they breathed new life into a family business with over 25 years of history — a production that has always put quality and honesty above all else.

This is how Cosset was born — a brand of natural pet treats built on trust and the desire to give the very best to those we consider family. Because a cat or dog is not just a "pet". They are the ones who are always by your side, no matter who you are or where you end up.

We have created freeze-dried treats with absolutely nothing extra. No artificial flavors. No compromises. Just one ingredient — and a touch of natural magic. Because we believe that true care is not loud. It is quiet, clear, and calm. Cosset is not about control; it's about connection. It is the language of respect we use every day to speak to those who have entrusted themselves to us.

Beef lungs and blueberries for dogs

Functional treats: Antioxidant

Support your pet's vitality with freeze-dried treats made from protein-rich beef lungs and antioxidant-packed bilberry. Beef lungs are a lean source of essential nutrients, while bilberries deliver natural antioxidants that help combat oxidative stress, support immune health, and may even promote eye and brain function.

This powerful combo helps protect your pet's cells from everyday damage and keeps them feeling energized and resilient.

Functional treats: Skin and coat

Treat your pet to a boost of skin and coat health with freeze-dried treats made from nutrient-rich beef udder and superfood sea buckthorn. Beef udder provides a natural source of healthy fats and essential amino acids that help nourish the skin and promote a soft, shiny coat.

Sea buckthorn, packed with omega-7, vitamin E, and powerful antioxidants, supports skin hydration, reduces irritation, and helps enhance coat luster. This functional blend is a delicious way to keep your pet looking and feeling their best—from the inside out.
