Products

Freeze-Dried

Freeze-dried pet food is nutritious, convenient, and fresh, retaining nutrients, taste, and aroma by removing moisture. Lightweight and shelf-stable, it rehydrates easily, making it perfect for storage and travel. With minimal processing and no preservatives, it ensures a wholesome, natural diet for pets.

Frozen Raw

Blast frozen raw pet food preserves nutrients, enzymes, and flavors, offering a biologically appropriate, minimally processed diet rich in proteins, fats, and vitamins, mimicking pets' ancestral feeding habits.

Frozen Cooked

Frozen, freshly cooked pet food preserves nutrients, taste, and texture through blast freezing, offering a nutritious, minimally processed, preservative-free meal made with whole, real ingredients.

Technology & Capabilities

At Pet Axis, we harness cutting-edge technology to drive efficiency, reduce marginal loss and wastage, and maximize yield. Through continuous innovation, we deliver sustainable, cost-effective solutions while upholding operational excellence.

DryLoc-Tech™ Freeze-Dry Process

Freeze-drying removes moisture from food while preserving its nutrients, flavour, and texture. The process freezes the food, then uses a vacuum to sublimate the ice directly into vapor, bypassing the liquid stage.

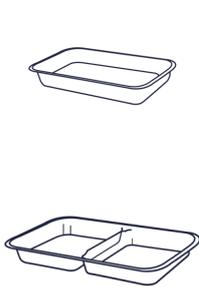

Frozen Cook Process

We craft blast-frozen pet food, gently cooked at 80°C to preserve nutrients — ensuring safe, wholesome, and balanced meals that meet pets' dietary needs.

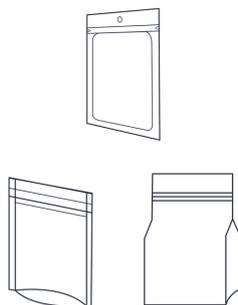

Frozen Raw Process

Our frozen raw pet food is crafted with premium ingredients and blast-frozen to lock in freshness, offering pets a natural, balanced diet for optimal health.
