

Shandong Ruida Silica gel Co., Ltd. is a premier, all-encompassing enterprise known for its innovative research, development, production, and sale of Silica gel-based products, including a unique line of Silica gel cat litters and pet health indicators. Renowned globally, our products grace over 40 countries and territories, including the United States and Europe, with our offering extending from a variety of cat litters to pet health diagnostic cat litters and urine pads. Our ambition is to position Ruida as a leader in both the cat litter and pet health diagnostic sectors.

Thanks to our unparalleled product quality, cutting-edge technology, and exceptional customer service, we've carved out a stellar brand and market reputation. This acclaim has secured us as the trusted regional leader for world-famous brands like Walmart, Carrefour, PetSafe, and PETCO. In our quest to consolidate customer bases and breach new markets, Ruida has inaugurated two subsidiaries. One leverages industrial waste heat to produce 80,000 tons of Silica gel cat litter yearly, with zero carbon emissions, while the other utilizes steam from bio-waste combustion for drying processes, outputting 50,000 tons of eco-friendly cat litter annually. These initiatives underscore our commitment to environmental stewardship and our ethos of green innovation.

By optimizing energy use, we not only reduce costs but also ensure our customers receive premium products at competitive prices, bolstered by our price guarantee—a testament to our 'peace of mind' shopping promise.

We warmly invite you to join us in forging a splendid future together!
