ALWAYS MISSION READY

Tactical Excellence with the RPX9

The RPX9 modified with a red dot sight and tactical flashlight, showcasing its adaptability and tactical potential. The optic-ready mount on the slide ensures seamless integration of a red dot, providing rapid and precise target acquisition. Additionally, the 22 mm Picatinny rail located beneath the frame allows for the effortless attachment of tactical flashlights, lasers, and other accessories, ensuring you're ready for any mission.

The red dot enhances accuracy during target transitions and on moving targets, while the under-frame rail expands your customization options for improved performance in challenging scenarios. These features give the RPX9 a tactical edge, making it a versatile and reliable choice for professionals and enthusiasts alike.

With its ergonomic design, durable build, and accessory compatibility, the RPX9 is engineered to deliver exceptional functionality and style in every situation.

RPX9

Frame

Perfect Blend of Durability and Performance

The RPX9 lower frame is made from high-quality polymer injection, providing an unbreakable structure. Successfully passing all tests, this lower frame is equipped with steel internal components for maximum precision. This design ensures top-level performance and durability, offering reliable and efficient use even in the most demanding conditions.

Optic Ready

The RPX9 is equipped with an RMR compatible optic ready mounting platform, allowing you to easily attach any RMR compatible optic. This feature enhances target acquisition speed and precision, providing a more efficient shooting experience for both tactical and competitive use.

Cooling And Aesthetic Power

The rectangular cutout on the slide top of the RPX9 significantly enhances barrel cooling speed while also adding an aggressive and aesthetic appearance. This design allows the barrel to cool faster during shooting, resulting in improved performance and efficiency. Additionally, this unique detail gives the RPX9 a dynamic style and strong visual identity, making the design both functional and visually striking.

radikal

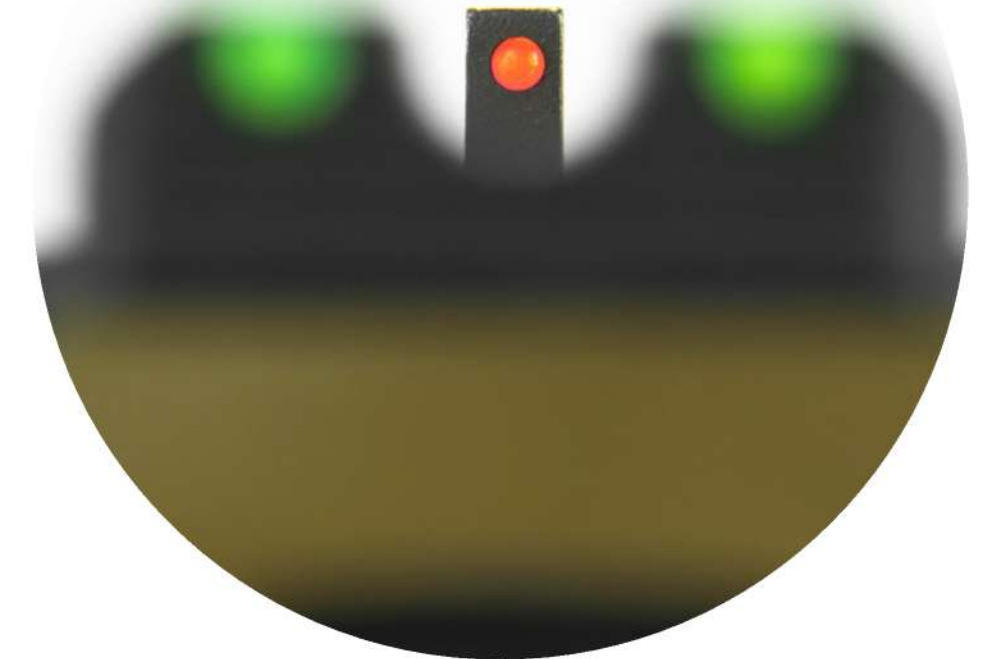

Quick Targeting and High Precision

The RPX9 features a detachable aluminum rear sight that provides an excellent field of view during shooting. Its durable construction ensures reliable performance over time, offering high precision for fast target acquisition and aiming. This rear sight design makes the RPX9 ideal for tactical and competitive use.

Quick and Easy Aiming

The RPX9's front sight delivers a fast aiming process. Thanks to its design enhanced with TruGlo, users can quickly focus on the target, resulting in faster and more accurate shots. The front sight's high-quality construction adds both functionality and aesthetic appeal to the RPX9.

GRIP

The Perfect Blend of Comfort and Control

The RPX9's grip is designed for maximum comfort and control. The front and back feature densely packed square texturing for a secure hold, while the sides have finely grooved surfaces for added stability. Ergonomically shaped to fit hands of all sizes, it ensures reliable handling and reduced fatigue, making it perfect for any situation. Additionally, the inclusion of the magwell provides easier use and smoother magazine insertion, further enhancing its overall performance.

Designed for Convenience

The RPX9 box contents are thoughtfully prepared to enhance your user experience. The package includes a durable polymer bag for 2 magazines and a cleaning kit to simplify maintenance. These additions ensure that storing, carrying, and maintaining your RPX9 is always easy and efficient.
