

PRINTED AND LAMINATED FILMS

PRODUCT SHEET

Give your products the perfect combination of protection and visual impact with our custom-printed films, available in both mono and laminated versions. We offer high-quality flexo and digital printing, ensuring vibrant colors, precise details, and strong brand visibility on every package.

Our laminated films are available in 2 or 3 layer structures, combining different materials to achieve the best barrier properties for extended freshness and durability. Whether you need sustainable mono solutions for easy recycling or multi-layer laminates for maximum protection, we tailor each film to meet your exact requirements.

We specialize in packaging for the food industry – from snacks, rice, and bakery products to frozen goods – but also create solutions for other sectors, including household goods, pet food, and industrial products. Our films are designed to keep your products safe during transport and storage, while making them stand out on the shelf. With advanced production technology and a focus on quality, we help you deliver packaging that sells your product before the customer even opens it.

OPTI

Optimized film with up to 20% less material thickness. Reduce your material costs with us and achieve lower carbon footprint of your production.
