

We have been declared cat lovers for many years... Spending time with our pets, observing cats at our breeder friends, helping animals living freely, we can see that the right diet is extremely important for their well-being and health. As the classic says, „Health and immunity starts in the stomach“. Being an obligatory carnivore, the cat should eat the food based on proteins of animal origin. Most of the cat food available on the market has gone far away from this principle, replacing meat with worthless ingredients of various, sometimes uncertain origin. That is how our mission was born – offering our cats the most natural diet possible, reflecting their natural needs so that they can live with us long and happily in good health.

Gussito feed is the fulfilment of that.

Excellent and uniquely fitted to the nutritional needs of our pets, complete and very well-balanced super premium food. Grain free Gussito canned food is based on consultations with breeders and veterinarians as well as on years of experience in cat feeding.

Prepared with care and passion, Gussito is a very well digestible cat food with a unique blend of super protein availability, produced in one of the most modern food factories in Germany.

The innovative process of steam production allows to preserve the richness of nutrients, vitamins and minerals, as well as the exquisite natural taste of Gussito.

The cat's body needs special care, so Gussito food is fitted to their metabolism and perfectly balanced, especially in terms of calcium and phosphorus proportions providing a balanced ratio. In addition, cats are very sensitive to taurine deficiency. The increased sensitivity to the deficiency of this amino acid is due to its limited synthesis and high demand - therefore Gussito food is very rich in taurine and its high concentration is adapted to the physiology and requirements of the cat.

Our cats as full members of our families fully deserve the best and healthy food. That's why Gussito food is addressed to a conscious customer who reads labels, analyzes the compositions and makes a thoughtful purchase that guarantees perfect health and a long and happy life for their pet.
